CEA Election Results

Peggy Kaiser, CEA President

Congratulations to our newly elected CEA Secretary, Ms. Andrea Buttross from Louisiana! Dr. Fran Wasing from West Virginia and Rhea Bowman from Alaska, have been reelected to the CEA Standards Commission. Thanks to all who volunteered and participated in the election. New Officers and Standard Commission Members will be sworn in at the 2018 Annual International Conference and Training Event in New Orleans, Louisiana on August 26, 2018.

A Message from the Acting Executive Director...

Morris E. Dew, Jr., CEA Acting Executive Director

“Give a Man a Fish, and You Feed Him for a Day. Teach a Man to Fish, and You Feed Him for a Lifetime”

In every public health program, the aim is not only to perform a given service but to teach the individual positive attitudes toward health which will benefit him throughout life. The purpose is well stated in an old proverb mentioned above.

The general principle of alleviating poverty by facilitating self-sufficiency has a long history that seemed to be concerned with the anticipation of charity by preventing poverty, namely, to assist the reduced brother, either by a considerable gift or loan of money; or by teaching him a trade, or by putting him out with a bang by getting married on New Year’s Eve. Mine started in New Orleans, Louisiana on August 26, 2018. Hence, my name change!

Happy New Year! I hope the first few months of 2018 have unfolded in a positive way for you. Mine started out with a bang by getting married on New Year’s Eve. Hence, my name change!

The CEA Board had several new year resolutions in 2017. Many CEA members worked diligently to accomplish those goals in order for them to be ready to roll out in 2018. I am happy to announce that the website redesign has been unveiled; policies and procedures from another era have been modernized and updated; and the revised Peer Tutoring initiative is nearing release. These initiatives launched in 2017 and coming to fruition in 2018, are leading the way into CEA’s bright future.

One of our 2018 resolutions was to continue developing relationships with other educational organizations that are able to enhance the product that CEA delivers to its members, in other words, further educational opportunities. CEA understands the importance of professional development and keeping educational skills current. CEA wants to provide those opportunities for its members. So, continue to visit the website www.ceanational.org and reading the newsletter to keep informed on what will be happening in 2018.

Correctional Education Directors Meet in Madison

The Association of State and Federal Directors of Correctional Education held its bi-annual meeting on Sunday, March 18th. The meeting was a pre-conference event at the CEA Leadership Forum in Madison, Wisconsin. State directors for adult corrections and for juvenile justice or their designees and other system (federal, private, large jails) correctional education leaders were invited to attend.

A long standing priority for the directors is gaining knowledge of current issues and opportunities in correctional education which are national in scope. Directors heard from and engaged with federal agency representatives and representatives of national technical assistance and advocacy organizations. These persons include the elected leadership of CEA. The directors joined the CEA Board members for an informal luncheon mid-day.

The directors blocked time on their agenda to consider language defining the mission and goals of their organization. Association President Marcie Koetke says, “We hope to reach consensus on our priorities and to thereby sharpen our focus to best meet the needs of our constituents. This organization has unmet potential to advance correctional education in federal, state, local and private correctional facilities.”

The networking portion of the directors’ agenda featured brief presentations by participants on recent innovations or professional practices seen to be potentially transferable from the originating correctional education system to other systems. Recognizing that educational technology has been a dominant theme in discussions among directors in recent years, the association’s officers decided to sponsor a series of workshops by which state correctional education leaders will share their system’s technology innovations. While these sessions are for and by State directors, they were offered during the regular Forum workshops sessions and opened to all conference attendees. Seven states presented in a series of three technology update workshops — all on Monday, March 19th.

REAL Act Introduced

Senator Brian Schatz has introduced the Restoring Education and Learning (REAL) Act in the U.S. Senate. this law would permanently and fully restore Pell Grant eligibility for incarcerated persons.

Congress amended the Higher Education Act of 1965, barring incarcerated people from accessing Pell Grants. Since then, there has been much debate about the wisdom of that move. An initiative of the Obama Administration is currently providing for limited and temporary exemptions for the Pell ban. That program, titled the Second Chance Pell Pilot Program, authorized 67 colleges to enroll prisoner students using Pell funding. The REAL Act would replace this initiative and fully restore prisoner eligibility.

The Correctional Education Association is one among many professional and advocacy organization supporting the REAL Act. Co-sponsors of the REAL Act include Senators Hirono, Cardin, Merkley, Sanders, Gillibrand, Markey, Whitehouse, Booker, Bennet, Blumenthal, Warren, Durbin. CEA members may wish to thank their senator(s) if he or she is co-sponsoring. If they are not, a personal contact by a constituent to urge support may be of great value.
